About

I am charismatic and a goal-driven leader who possesses the ability to adapt to a variety of situations and I love to be team oriented. As a young man who can bring positivity, support and mindfulness to any team which is looking to go above and beyond the standards.I take pride and accountability for all my actions as I believe I am my biggest critic. Despite being a full time college student of school leaving age I am confident enough my abilities can add value to any organisation.
