About

Graphics Designer with a Creative Flair

It was my love for colors and symmetry that lured me to the path of art and design. Experimenting with a variety of media graphics, including illustrations, logos, layouts and photos, I have been able to shape the visual aspects of advertisements, websites, books, magazines, brochures, product packaging, exhibitions and so forth to captivate, inspire and inform audiences. I have been lucky enough to work with some of the most creative and driven individuals with business-focused brands. Over the years, I have emerged as a design leader by carefully helping teams intertwine graphic design with digital technology.
