About

Currently pursing Masters in Computer science and have been enthusiastic about Software Engineering. Had the privilege to manage numerous projects. Began journey with testing applications for companies. Got more adept at solving technical issues. Firmly believe that pursuing a Master's Degree in Computer science will provide the perfect platform to cultivate existing capabilities further. Looking for a role in a sector where my skills in the design, implementation, and delivery of software can be applied to ensure performance, latency, and efficiency.
