About

LEADER. I have attained significant experience in dealing with people in different situations. My chosen career is not one I find restrictive and am open to seeking knowledge and experience in as many opportunities possible. Helping and giving back to my community (-ies) in as many ways as possible is a driving factor of my willingness to learn and succeed. I already have affiliations and experiences within several sectors including marketing, hospitality, fitness and health. I am as versatile as ever, in my continuation to explore different pathways within both business and academia. I am already working in my business plan which I believe can make a positive impact in society and working in various sectors include management and entrepreneurship.
