About

With robust customer service skills, I'm experienced in cash handling and providing professional responses to customers. My flexibility is ideal for assistant associate roles across various retail/fashion settings. Proficient in appointment management systems, ready to offer an adaptable approach. I'm a passionate aspiring fashion enthusiast and content creator keen of learning more about the fashion and social media industry with experience across various administrative support roles. I've taken my initial steps into this dynamic industry, navigating the intersection of creativity and digital expression by enrolling into a digital marketing course and assisting a business with content creation demonstrating excellent planning and time management skills to meet business support needs. I'm eagerly seeking opportunities to connect and work alongside like-minded individuals.
