About

I am described as an extremely sociable person and this represents me a lot, what is not apparent from my first impression is that I am very disciplined and loyal to rules, to timing and I love precision.

I have been animated since I was a child by everything that concerns the world of fashion and the aesthetic aspect in general, I love challenges and completing what I start.

I consider myself a dynamic person with good inventive qualities.

Having been able to turn my passion into a job makes me feel good every day.
