About

I am a hardworking and dedicated individual who prides myself on my ability to effectively communicate with others and this means I can work successfully to achieve a goal. I am looking for a busy retail environment to gain hands-on experience.

Experience

- Home Removal Assistant

| May 2017 - Oct 2019

Working as part of a small logistics team, I was responsible for the careful moving of personal belongings from residential properties for customers which were moving house. Whilst undertaking this position I was required at all times to uphold exceptionally high standards of professionalism at all times through excellent communication and a continual demonstration of respect for the items of others. As I was working within the home of others, I relied on my personal skills and polite nature to reassure them whilst working within their property and handling their belongings.

Education & Training
