About

Hello, my name is Eleonore Clara Moreau. I am a visual designer and art director. In 2020, I graduated with a BA(HONS) in Design Management and Cultures from the University of the Arts London. London-based, from Belgium, with a passion for cultures and visual designs, I had the chance to work and be inspired internationally to help create solutions adequate to every context. From a background in documentary photography (Shortlisted by Magnum Agency x LensCulture 2016) to capturing the catwalks of Fashion Weeks, my aim has always been to authentically represent and empower. I then grew my practice with design by passion for problem solving and inclusivity in visuals (specialised in graphic design for people with dyslexia and neurodivergence). As for my future, I hope to evolve as a creative designer in the museum sector/ magazines/ agencies that defy the status quo. In my free time, you can find me in galleries, taking photographs, playing with alternative print processes or creating typographies. I believe my strengths comprises my versatility. I am vogueing between social media creation and print management, inspired by art history and new technologies, and juggling between researched and spontaneous ways of working. I would love to contribute in creative production to create impact , cultural relevancy and meaning behind every visuals.
