About

My career goal is to get experience as a team member, if not a team, and to be able to work my way up. An ambitious hardworking individual who wishes to pursue a business career while simultaneously acquiring real-world experience/ I worked in various locations such as warehouse, retail & hospitality this helped me to adapt in a fast-paced environment. I feel my skills are particularly well-suited to this position because I can be able to communicate, teamwork and so many other things. Whilst working as a team, it's important everyone pulls together, and more importantly, carry out their specific job with professionalism and accuracy. The skills I can provide teamwork, courage, communication, maturity, good personality, professionalism, honesty. My achievements I recently gained was me being accepted to university to study my passion and go for what I love in my future careers. So I would love to explore more work around me and I hope to hear back from anyone who is looking for more recruiters like me.
