About

As a highly motivated and ambitious young professional, I boast an exceptional academic record and a proven ability to approach tasks with maturity and responsibility. My current status as a university student follows outstanding achievements at both GCSEs and A-Levels, cultivating strong time management and organisational skills over the years. Through various work experiences, I've honed valuable workplace competencies encompassing sales, customer service, relationship building, communication, and teamwork. Proficient in analytics, Microsoft Office, spreadsheets, email correspondence, and data visualisation, I consistently strive for excellence in every task and scenario. I am eager to undergo further training and acquire new skills to continuously enhance my capabilities.
