About

Recent MSc in Luxury & Fashion Management graduate, with a bachelor's degree in fashion technology at University College Ghent (Hogent). These studies and experiences provided me with insights and knowledge about both the technical/production aspect of clothing collections as well as the managerial side. My student jobs and internships made me realise that the retail sector is currently where I would like to grow and evolve, as I've been so fascinated by all aspects of it. Overall I am passionate about fashion, skincare and art in all of its forms, naturally curious and above all happy to make the most out of every chance to learn more and to take on new challenges and experiences.
