About

Chloé is a highly creative and conscientious design professional. As a graduated Interior Designer, she contributed her skills to commercial, hospitality, and office projects. She's a real expert in material and furniture prescription (FF&E), has strong space-planning skills, and has perfect knowledge of the furniture market (suppliers, manufacturing processes, shipping, and delivery). She possesses strong graphic and visual skills and awareness of current trends which allow her to be a real source of proposals for global creative projects.

She has been promoting contemporary and collectible furniture design through the first bilingual media platform (French and English), Huskdesignblog.com, and a specialized furniture online store since 2019.

Operates every day with a sense of looking to how design can make a difference, she'd like to hear from you and connect with Design and Furniture professionals and enthusiasts!
