About

I am a highly skilled and dynamic Senior Fashion Designer and Product Developer who has worked to build up Holzweiler from a small brand to an international fashion house.

Experienced in managing menswear collections, jersey collections and accessories collections.

Experienced designer and product developer in the following categories - Jersey, Knitwear, Denim, Woven, Bottoms, Tops, Outerwear and Soft Accessories.

I am passionate with high workload capabilities, an eye for detail, a drive for perfection and a seeker who strives to always learn more to further hone my skills and push for innovation.

A collaborator who values collective effort, believing in mutual support and leveraging each other's strengths to enhance work and to innovate.
