About

I am a hard-working individual with a huge interest in fashion and I am currently completing a level 6 degree in Fashion Buying, Styling, and Merchandising in GTI. I have always loved fashion and have enjoyed my previous experiences working in retail, I have a particular interest in the areas of design, styling, merchandising, and fashion buying, however, I am eager to gain as much experience as possible across a wide range of fields within the industry. Therefore, I think a career in the fashion industry would be ideal for me. In previous years, I have completed an undergrad (BA) in Psychology and an MSc in Clinical Psychology at Utrecht University. These courses have provided me with a good understanding of people, expert communication skills, and the ability to collaborate efficiently with a team. All of which are important skills within the world of retail and fashion. I have relevant experience working in Diesel (Galway), assisting on set with August Night, and assisting stylists Orla Sheridan and Anne O'Shea. These positions have provided me with a range of skills including visual merchandising skills, the ability to relate to and assist customers, the drive to push sales in order to reach targets, the capacity to work within a busy environment, and relevant styling skills.
