About

My passion in life is being an helpful asset to people and companies.

I love providing a great service and collaborating with other professionals, bringing out the best in one another and achieving excellent results.

Having run my own global marketing agency for nearly 20 years and been actively involved with starting new companies and launching new products, I love the thrill of creating new relationships with great people who are out to conduct excellent business.

I created Prestige Watches in 2017 to merge two of my greatest passions; Luxury watches and Business.

I have a great network of watch professionals, enthusiasts and collectors.

I really enjoy the business aspect of the luxury watch industry as well as the behind-the-scenes psychological and marketing creativity.

My purpose as a professional in the industry is to help watch buyers and sellers achieve their watch goals and provide inspiration to to industry.

The Prestige Watches Mission: To Spread Watch Happiness
Buy • Sell • Source

Trusted professional with 5-star ratings and happy customers all around the world.

Whether you want a brand new watch or prefer something that is enriched with vintage soul and steeped with history, he can help you achieve your watch goals.

He know that buying and selling a watch can be a daunting experience. His job is to make it fun and enjoyable for you which is why he believes a personalised service is so important when buying a new watch.

His business style has always been based on simple values; Honesty. Integrity. Dependability. Capability and one of his main priorities in business is to protect his reputation as a trustworthy, professional, genuine and reliable person to work with.

He wishes not only to provide a trustworthy service, a great product and an excellent price, but to inspire more and more people to have a passion for watches... to appreciate them and be excited by them.
